I was born in the North East, but travelled around as I was growing up. I have lived some of my life as a street kid so am fully aware of the complexity of diverse living and different situations. I later was situated in the Gulf of Arabia and experienced again different situations which all add to who I am and my character. I have also worked as a mission partner in Nicaragua from 2000 - 2007 at various times. My passion is to see restored dignity to people on the margins of our society and I believe that through Unlock's method this can be attainable. Meeting people within there stories is a valuable tool and where we will see people transformed. At the moment I am training for Methodist Diaconate Ministry and being situated in Birmingham gives me the chance to offer my time with Unlock."
